

COMMAND ENVIRONMENTS

INTRODUCTION:

Students are asked to share with the group something about their new command (geographic location, community, command's mission), one personal or command challenge they expect to face in their new command as well as one gift they bring to the command and/or command families. Students are also asked to recognize the value of volunteerism and asked to offer an opportunity for them to volunteer during their next tour.

GOAL:

The goal of this module is for you to:

- recognize the importance of every Navy command
- name the challenges associated with your spouse's command
- recognize the gifts you bring to the command environment
- understand the importance of volunteerism, roles, responsibilities and choices

ADDITIONAL RESOURCE:

- All Hands Owner's & Operator's Manual:
www.navy.mil/ah_online/owners2015.html

"Problems are opportunities in work clothes."

Henry John Kaiser